

To Dispose of Just One Drum, or a Whole Truckload.

Think Green.®

Properly disposing of steel drums, cubic yard boxes and containers carrying non-hazardous, special or hazardous waste can be a challenge for any industrial or manufacturing facility. Depending on the materials involved, disposal may require special handling as well as the completion of regulatory paperwork.

Because the cost of handling and transporting drums can frequently surpass the costs of their actual disposal, Waste Management is committed to helping customers develop a collection and disposal plan that keeps these costs to a minimum.

RELIABLE, AFFORDABLE SERVICE

Waste Management offers safe, reliable and cost-effective Drum Management Services for businesses large and small. Expert in special and hazardous waste handling and disposal, Waste Management will collect, transport and arrange for the proper treatment and/or disposal of drums and their contents while maintaining compliance with all local, state and federal regulations.

Whether drummed waste is hazardous or non-hazardous, liquid or solid, debris or soil, Waste Management will process it safely, reliably and economically.

Drum Management Services can be arranged on an on-call or scheduled basis. "LTL" (Less than Truck Load) Services for single drums and Full Truck Load Management Services are also available.

SIGNIFICANT BENEFITS
